

Building Envelope

Building Insulation

The building is well insulated. Insulation levels should be checked and increased wherever possible to reduce the need for heating. This can also reduce the possibility of the building overheating in summer.